

ICIS and FCX Performance Announce Software Partnership and Distribution Agreement

FCX Providing ICIS Software and Services to the U.S. Market

Chicago, Illinois – July the 29th 2009

ICIS Software Solutions and FCX Performance announced today that they have entered into an exclusive Partnership and Distribution agreement for the ICIS range of software products in the U.S. market. Under this agreement FCX will have the exclusive distribution rights to the ICIS branded software applications encompassing the unique product set of:

- ICIS Plant Energy - Energy Consumption and Analysis without Metering hardware
- ICIS Plant Performance - Process Cycle Time Analysis and Value Stream Mapping
- ICIS Plant Alarm - Alarm Analysis and Rationalisation Tools

“This partnership with FCX enables the ICIS software tools and applications to reach an ever expanding market across the U.S. through the extensive well established and respected FCX sales network,” said ICIS CEO Des Cooling.

FCX will provide software Sales, Installation, and Support for the ICIS toolset through their current Process Engineering Division.

“We’re very excited to be in this unique position of offering the ICIS toolset to the U.S. market through FCX. Our customers and new clients will benefit extensively from these feature rich applications in order to aid with and drive their Energy and Operational cost reduction programs,” said FCXs Process Divisions General Manager Hugh Roddy.

ICIS applications unlike other competitors utilise a sites existing infrastructure, such as Process Control and Automation data, to create the information portals necessary to aid management in identifying and reducing a facilities energy and operational costs.

“ With FCX having the necessary in-house Process expertise and Automation knowledge required to understand and market our products we are confident that our partnership with them will lead to many successful project implementations in the years ahead,” said ICIS CEO Des Cooling.

About ICIS

ICIS are a market leader in Energy and Operational software analysis tools for production and building environments. Please visit our website <http://www.icissoftware.com>

About FCX Performance

FCX Performance are leaders in the field of Process Automation Solutions and Equipment Distribution. Please visit our website <http://www.fcxperformance.com>

Trademarks

ICIS is a registered trademark of Integrated Controls & Information Systems Ltd.
FCX is a registered trademark of FCX Performance LLC

Contact Info

Hugh Roddy
FCX Performance
hroddy@FCXPerformance.com